

We say that a mapping satisfies Luzin's condition N if it maps all sets of measure zero to sets of measure zero. This property is of fundamental importance for change of variables in integral. We discuss sufficient conditions for the validity of the condition N within the class of Sobolev or Sobolev-Orlicz mappings. The most recent results have been obtained jointly with Pekka Koskela and Thomas Zürcher.